

LAB HOMEWORK 2

1. Write an 8086 assembly language “Character Identification” program that takes user input and identifies the type of character.

If the character is a lowercase letter, it should print - “The user input a lowercase letter”.

If the character is an uppercase letter, it should print - “The user input an uppercase letter”.

If the character is a digit, it should print - “The user input a digit.”